Claire Christinel

Above: An award-winning artist, Claire's most recent paintings include still life and west coast landscapes, in either oils or acrylics. Claire's paintings are inspired by the light. clairechristinelfineart.com

MaryLou Wakefield

Left: MaryLou is a contemporary abstract artist who works primarily in painting and printmaking. Inspired by the landscape, architecture and design, she uses bold marks and rich colour to reach beyond what's tangible. mlwakefieldart.com

Paul Shepherd

Right: A new series of paintings done during the early part of the pandemic. Smaller, containing more detail than previously exhibited. shep-art.com

Joan Easton

Left: Working in watercolour, florals, birds, and local scenes are the focus of my work. Originals and cards will be available and commissions are welcome.

Lindy Michie

Below: Lindy likes to play with perspective and shapes. Inspiration derives from shadows, reflection, nature and colour-inside and outside.

Carole Finn

Above: Acrylic painter of land, water, in habitants (bears/ wolves); limited edition Fine Art Prints. Art coach/mentor at Art On The Edge Retreat. carolefinnartist.com

Arlene Davey

Terry McBride

Bottom Right: Painting in acrylics and watercolour, I like to explore colour and shapes in both landscape and still life.

Donna Ion

Above: Paintings in small and large format celebrating our beautiful west coast forests in my unique style will be available as well as greeting cards. donnionart.com

Joanie McCorry

Above: Discover the new magic Joanie has created via her three-dimensional paper castings, collages and photos. New greeting cards on display. @peridotulips

Jennifer Olson

Top Right: Jennifer's representational watercolour paintings are unique in their strong contrast, and luminosity. Her bold pigments and spontaneous textures capture still life, landscape and architectural subjects.

Kimberley VanWeelden

Christine Phibbs-Barr

Left: As an artist and art therapist, who has finally been able to settle and play in the beautiful surroundings of Oak Bay, Christine creates paintings inspired by nature that express for her the peace, joy and light within.

Anne Hansen

Right: Anne's current work is an interpretation of Emily Carr's tree paintings, and protest the destruction of BC's ancient forests.

Derek Rees

Above: Capturing photographic images throughout Oak Bay and surrounding areas for the past six years to present – these have finally gone to print.

Heather Midori Yamada

Above: Heather is a visual artist and teacher who works with Japanese washi papers in paintings, collage and installations. artyamada.com

Gail Price-Douglas

Above: Bold and vibrant, Gail's artworks dance with colour in her richly textured works in acrylic and mixed media. A current favourite is backyard chickens and vivid landscapes.

Terry Vatr

Above: Terry explores relationships between the macro and the micro, the seen and the unseen, through the media of photography, printmaking and art books. theartcaravan.ca @the_art_caravan

Victor Lotto

Above: Victor works primarily in watercolour and acrylics with an emphasis on landscapes and sea scapes in the area around Oak Bay. victorlotto.ca

Sophia Shafonsky

Above: Handmade ceramic sculptures and potteries inspired by Vancouver Island nature. Sophia's work explores colours and textures creating a unique vision of botanical and marine life.
